Soviet Vessel's Interference 'Quite Likely'

Naval Lieutenant Says Cable Breaks May Be 'Accidental'

ARGENTIA, Nfld. (AP) — The searched the Novorossisk says the Soviet trawler "probably quite likely" had something to do with breaking transatlantic cables.

But, he emphasizes, "I don't know whether accidentally or intentionally."

Lt. Donald Sheely of Falls Church, Va., told a news conference here Friday night that the Soviets offered no resistance to his boarding party on Thursday and sailed away on being told to leave the Grand Banks area where five cables were broken.

In Sydney, N.S., the Eastern Telegraph and Telephone Co. said a patrol plane had sighted about 20 trawlers—15 of them Soviet—still operating in the area Friday. The pilot said the ships "just appear to be fishing."

Rough seas and drifting ice held up repairing of the cables. Two Western Union cables ships are standing by but the weather forecast was gloomy for beginning work for some hours.

Called Boarding Illegal

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda called the boarding illegal and the official Soviet news agency Tass described it as the "unlawful action of the American naval fleet in the open sea."

Neither gave any immediate indication whether the Soviets intend to make a formal diplomatic protest. If they do, they face a rebuff.

U.S. State Department press officer Lincoln White said in Washington "I don't think any apology is involved in any way, shape or form. This was not a hostile action, but an investigation clearly provided for under terms of a treaty."

The Soviet accounts of the boarding in the Grand Banks fishing grounds off Newfoundland made no mention of the 1884 treaty which permits inspection of the documents of ships suspected of damaging oceanic cables, intentionally or accidentally.

Treat As Routine

Moscow Radio, in a newscast to the Soviet people, tended to treat the boarding as a routine story. It quoted Adm. Jerauld Wright, commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, as saying "The skipper of the Soviet trawler showed a friendly attitude and acted in a cooperative spirit and that nothing was found to show any other object than fishing."

Cmdr. Ernest J. Korte of U.S. Navy radar picket ship Roy O. Hale, who sent the party aboard the Soviet trawler said the cable breaks occurred in about 175 fathoms of water about 180 miles due east of Cape Bonavista, Nfld. Radioman S.C. Roland A. Poulin of Chicopee, Mass., who acted as interpreter for the five-man boarding party, said the trawler's journal "indicated she had been operating in the area where the cable was broken."

Sheely said "I believe it definitely possible and probably quite likely the trawler had something to do with breaking the cables—I don't know whether accidentally or intentionally."

Council To Review City's Financial Plight

City Council is expected to further scrutinize the city's financial situation at its meeting at City Hall Tuesday night.

James Criswell, city treasurer, reported to councilmen at a committee-of-the-whole meeting Tuesday, that the city will be able to meet its payrolls until April 1. He said that the city recently received more tax money from the state.

At the last regular session Fred Koernreich finance committee chairman, cited figures to show that the city's financial plight was so serious as to require new sources of revenue in the near future. An income tax is one of the methods of raising funds under study by Council.

Council had been reluctant to even discuss such a tax in the past because of the imminent danger of opposition from local labor unions and manufacturers.

Area Teachers Attend Workshop

Two hundred area teachers attended the first annual teachers' workshop at Columbiana High School Friday afternoon. The faculty members represented Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana and East Palestine high schools.

Principal speakers at the event were Robert A. Mancheser of the Ohio State Board of Education and Glen A. Rich, director of elementary and secondary education in the Ohio educational department.

Beck Sentenced To Five Years

Former Labor Boss Guilty of Evasion

TACAOMA, Wash. (AP)—Former Teamster Union President Dave Beck received a five year sentence and $60,000 fine Friday for income tax evasion, plus a double-barreled denunciation from the judge.

"The exposure of Mr. Beck's insatiable greed, resulting in his fall from high place, is a sad and shocking story," said U.S. District Judge George Boldt, in a scathing, 20-minute lecture before passing sentence.

Beck quickly posted $70,961 to cover the fine and court costs and was released. After his conviction Feb. 19, Beck spent a night behind bars for the first time in his life before appeal bond was set.

A motion for a new trial was denied.

The government could claim more than half a million dollars from Beck.

He was charged with evading $240,607 for the years 1950-53, but the government raised its estimate of the amount actually owed to $258,636. In addition to the fine and court costs, a 50 per cent fraud penalty of $129,318 and $96,996 in interest at 6 per cent brings the total to $555,911.

Beck, 64, stood calm and quiet, one hand clenched behind his back and the other in a trouser pocket, as the judge began his denunciation.

He refused two invitations to address the court. But later he told reporters, "I am not the first innocent person to be sentenced nor will I be the last."

He said he had authorized his attorneys to push the appeal, filed last week.

Superintendent Warns Against Book Salesmen

Supt. of Schools E. S. Kerr warned today that salesmen are soliciting orders for books and falsely saying that the reference volumes have been recommended by the superintendent or the board of education.

These salesmen are unauthorized, Mr. Kerr said, adding that "Salem schools are supplied with reference books, dictionaries and encyclopedias for children's use. We have not recommended that parents purchase books or reference works of any kind. If we ever do, which is unlikely, parents will be notified directly through the schools, and not by unauthorized salesmen."

British Official Lands in Leningrad

Mikoyan, Gromyko Greet Macmillan

LENINGRAD (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrived in Leningrad today to find a surprise top-level Soviet delegation waiting to greet him. It was headed by First Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. Mikoyan and Gromyko flew to Leningrad from Moscow with British Ambassador Sir Patrick Reilly. Macmillan flew in from Kiev.

A British spokesman said Macmillan had no advance notice that Mikoyan was joining him for his two-day visit to Leningrad.

A British official said that Mikoyan had mentioned earlier in the week that he might come to Leningrad but, as in the case of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's trip to Kiev, the British were later told those plans had been dropped.

Khrushchev canceled a trip to Kiev with the British leader, pleading he had to see a dentist about a toothache. That same day he received an Iraqi delegation at the Kremlin, and many observers said Khrushchev had a "diplomatic toothache."

Mikoyan in Gay Mood

Mikoyan was in a gay mood as he waited on the ramp and greeted Macmillan. Both exchanged friendly remarks before Macmillan went off with Leningrad officials to inspect a brightly informed guard of honor.

The appearance of Mikoyan was especially surprising in view of the fact that he implied Friday night that Macmillan was responsible for the chill on British-Soviet

Strike of Newspapers Continues in Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Federal Mediator George H. Bell says the mediation service probably will ask management and union officials to resume joint negotiations sometime next week in an effort to end a pressmen's strike against this city's three daily newspapers.

The Columbus Dispatch and Citizen, afternoon papers, and the Ohio State Journal, a morning paper, have not printed since the Columbus Web Pressmen's Union, Local 15, struck the three dailies Thursday night in a contract dispute.

Negotiations broke off Wednesday. Bell conferred individually with the publishers' committee and the union Friday. He issued a statement which gave no indication of an immediate end to the walkout.

All three newspapers began furloughing idle workers. They employ about 1,700 persons, excluding some 6,000 newspaper carriers. Spokesmen for Local 13 of the American Newspaper Guild referred to the furloughing as a "lockout."

U.S. Moon Rocket Eyed for Weekend

Thirteen Pound Juno Expected To Orbit Sun

Instrument Loaded Satellite Eyed as Artificial Planet

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States, flexing its missile muscles in a spectacular series of firings, is ready to try again to ram a satellite past the moon and into orbit around the sun.

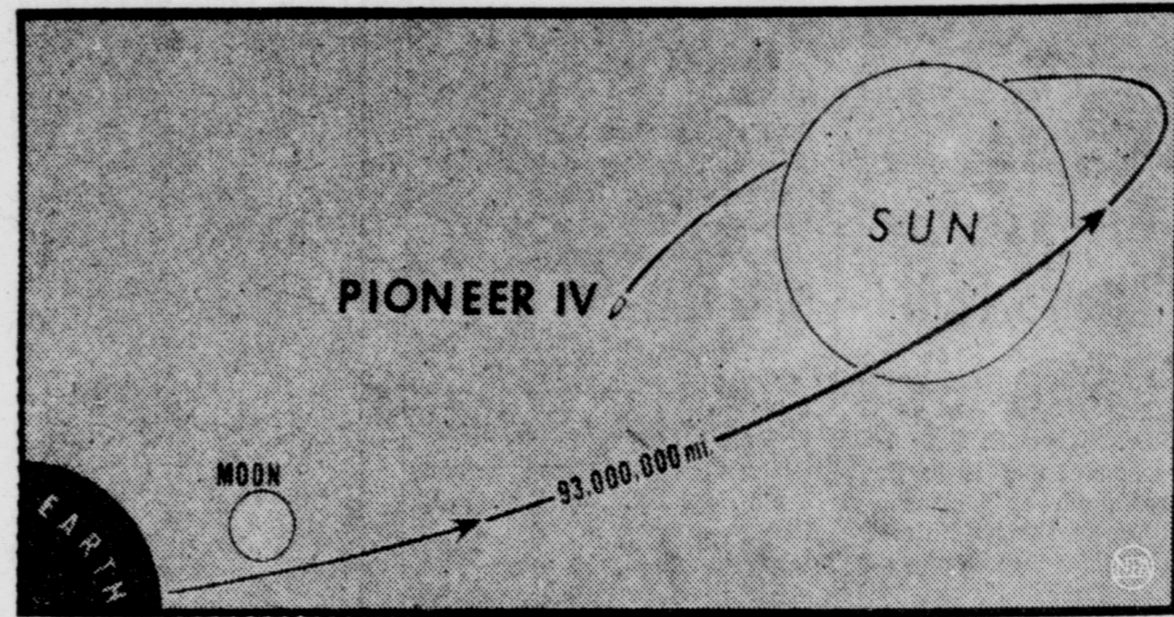

The Army moon-shoot appears likely this weekend, although the exact time still is a secret.

Preliminaries in the big weekend space show were:

Launching of a powerful 80-foot Thor-Able rocket early today on a 5,000-mile ICBM nose cone recovery test.

Successful firing of a 28 foot Jupiter missile Friday over a 1,700-mile range to test its tactical ballistic shell, nose cone, engine, warhead and fusing system.

Launching of the Navy's Polaris nuclear submarine rocket Friday. The Navy later said the Polaris may have broken up soon after it disappeared into the clouds, although considerable test data was recorded. Three of four earlier Polaris firings were unsuccessful.

Four Stage Juno II

The Army moon rocket waiting to take the limelight was a four-stage Juno II — a Jupiter surmounted with three successive stages of Sergeant rockets. Its star role will be to hurl a 13-pound satellite loaded with radiation equipment past the moon to become an artificial planet whirling around the sun.

The first and second stages of the Juno II rocket will be in a spinning bucket to give stability in flight. There will be 11 of the solid fuel Sergeant rockets in the second stage, three in the third.

The fourth stage will be one Sergeant rocket to which the little satellite will be attached. The planes of the earth and moon are now in the best relation —with the moon about 220,000 miles from the earth.

The first Army moon-shoot last Dec. 6 climbed 64,000 miles. The Pioneer II rocket fired by the Air Force last Nov. 8 reached 71,000 miles.

The Soviets have claimed they sent a space probe past the moon early this year.

The Thor-Able fired early today shot through the clouds with a brilliant flash at the start of the nose cone recovery test—the fifth of a series. The first four failed,

Khrushchev To Visit Berlin

Talks Eyed With Eastern Leaders

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will come to East Germany to attend the Leipzig Trade Fair which opens Sunday. Presumably he will use the occasion to talk over the Berlin crisis with East German officials.

ADN, official East German news agency, announced the Khrushchev visit. It quoted a Tass agency dispatch today from Moscow. Tass did not give the exact day for the visit. Presumably it will come after British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan leaves Moscow Tuesday.

The announcement came amid speculation among Western diplomats in Berlin that the Soviet Union may be getting ready to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

Some of the diplomats were inclined to view the Leipzig Fair as only an excuse for Khrushchev to visit East Germany and conduct on-the-spot talks with officials.

The official explanation of the visit, according to ADN, was that Khrushchev had been invited by the East German regime to visit the fair, the world's biggest East-West trading event.

May Sign Treaty

Both the Soviet Union and East Germany have said they may sign a separate peace treaty if the West refuses to meet Soviet terms on a peace treaty for all of Germany.

The Soviet Union announced last month it wants a German peace treaty that would recognize Germany's present boundaries, in-

Fire Victims Are Released From Hospital

Ralph Lake, 24, and his wife, Violet, 21, were released from the Central Clinic Friday afternoon after being treated for smoke inhalation and shock sustained when fire of undetermined origin gutted their home at 855 W. State St. early Friday morning.

Mr. Lake also suffered lacerations of the wrists and feet during the blaze which caused $10,000 damage to the two-family, two-story frame dwelling and contents.

Six other persons were treated for smoke inhalation and shock.

Mrs. Alberta Exline, 43, Mr. Lake's mother by a previous marriage, who also resided in the house, said she heard an explosion around midnight and went downstairs to see what had happened. She was greeted by a wall of flame and smoke at the foot of the stairs.

Mrs. Exline said she ran back upstairs and broke a bedroom window on the west of the house. Then she and Mrs. Lake helped get the three smallest Lake children, Linda, 2, Debra, 1 and Rickey, two months to safety.

Mrs. Lake passed the three children across a porch roof to Mrs. Exline who handed them to employees of a neighboring service station on the ground below. Mrs. Lake then jumped into the arms of the men. By that time firemen had arrived and helped Mrs. Exline down a ladder from the porch roof.

In the meanwhile Mr. Lake had leaped from a second story window and opened the kitchen door on the other side of the house. He went back upstairs and helped his son, Lenny, 4, and Danny Exline, 10, out a first floor kitchen window.

Mrs. Exline's husband was at work at the Eljer Co. at the time. The homeless families are residing with neighbors for the present.

The local Red Cross chapter is providing food and clothing for them.

Democrats Pick Convention Site

Los Angeles Chosen For Nominations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic party's decision to hold its 1960 convention in Los Angeles appeared likely to move California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown into a kingmaker role in the presidential nominating contest.

The committee voted 71-35 Friday to hold its nominating convention in Los Angeles. Chicago and Philadelphia members fought this decision in an acrimonious five-hour session of the group but lost by votes ranging from 68-37 to 67-39.

Brown will get an early chance to display himself to the convention delegates in a welcoming speech. It was with just such a speech that Adlai E. Stevenson brought the house down in the 1952 Chicago convention that later nominated him for president.

Probably nobody in California thinks that Brown is a serious candidate. But as a favorite son he can control California's powerful convention vote on the first ballot. After that he can attempt to throw the state's important delegation behind another candidate.

With the convention site settled, the Democrats turn their attention to a $100-a-plate victory dinner here tonight. Two Texans, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson and House Speaker Sam Rayburn, will be the main speakers.

Camille F. Gravel Jr. of Louisiana, who headed the site subcommittee, said the party would get about $750,000 in benefits from Los Angeles.

The convention will open July 11, 1960, in the Los Angeles Arena which is now 80 per cent complete. The air-conditioned arena will seat 22,400.

Plans call for seating the 3,500 delegates on the main floor, with spectators and the press on the two tiers of seats rising around it.

Deadline Nears for Ohio Bell Contract

CLEVELAND (AP)—The present contract between Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers of America expires at midnight tonight. However, company negotiators are optimistic that a new agreement will be reached.

So far, there has been no indication of a strike.

After a meeting Friday, company representatives said they were "making progress" on a new contract covering 17,000 Ohio Bell employees. Negotiations, began about a month ago.

Contract demands have not been announced.

CHILDREN OF THE BIBLE by Patrick and Garrison

JOSEPH

"And she conceived, and bore a son; and said, God hath taken away my reproach: and she called his name Joseph..."

—Genesis 30:23, 24

Jacob had twelve sons, but of these he loved Joseph best. Joseph was a child of his wife Rachel.

Because Jacob showed greater favor to Joseph, his brothers' envy was aroused and they sold him into slavery to an Egyptian officer named Potiphar.

The familiar story of Joseph and his brothers is told so beautifully and so completely by Moses in the Book of Genesis, that to give a condensed version of it here would only spoil the inspired narrative.

As for the character of Joseph, it was one that might well serve as a model for children of all time.

Moses tells us that he "diligently exercised himself to have always a conscience void of offense towards God and towards man."

Because he felt only love, even towards those who did him harm, and because he was humble, grateful, and resigned, God was able to speak to him.

This quality stood him in good stead later in life when he was brought before the king of Egypt to interpret the ruler's dream. So perfectly did Joseph do this, owing to the awareness given him by God, that Pharaoh made him the Prime Minister of Egypt.

Another characteristic of Joseph, which runs like a golden thread through his story, is his deep love and respect for his father.

Even after twenty years' absence, when he had changed from a young boy into a mature ruler, his first question to his brothers (who did not recognize him) was:

"Is your father yet alive?"
This bond of affection between Joseph and Jacob was more than the mutual love of father and son. It was the deep feeling of common purpose between two persons, both of whom were wholly dedicated to the service of God.

The World Isn't Our Apple

It's a good idea from time to time to recognize the fact that this is God's world, and that, in the final analysis, He is able to do with it as He sees fit. It does not actually belong to us!

We may attempt to ignore this fact, even try to deny it, but eventually we find ourselves face to face with it, so we are better off if we take a look at it along the way.

It's God's world. It was His in the beginning; it is His now.

Miss Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Sweitzer, 943 W. Summit, Alliance, will be accompanied by Mrs. Marion Harger Stewart.

A graduate of Alliance High School, Miss Warren will open her recital by singing "Dido's Lament" from Act Three of Purcell's "Dido and Aeneas" and "Laudamus Te" from "B Minor Mass" by Bach.

boys who had played so long in the neighborhood vacant lot they thought it belonged to them. Or the girl who borrowed a friend's sweater and wore it until she was sure it always had been hers. Or the young man who drove Dad's car so much he looked upon it as his car.

We tend to think of the world as our own extra special possession. It's our "apple," so we think. We expect it to revolve and conform and produce to suit our particular needs and convenience.

But we are just as wrong as we can be when we follow this line of thinking, for we should be ever mindful of the circumstances whereby we have been permitted to "possess" this world.

We have been playing in a vacant lot, wearing a sweater, driving a car that does not really belong to us.

WE HAVE EVERY reason to believe that as long as we treat the privileges God has granted us with the respect they deserve that they will continue.

However, like all other privileges, when basic authority is ignored, responsibility is side-stepped and rights are abused, loss of privilege is sure to come.

God has been waiting a long time for mankind to make good. Suppose He should decide suddenly that today is the day to balance the ledger and judge the result of man's performance here on earth!

It's a good possibility that He would be disappointed with that result. Conceivably, He could give us on the whole business as a bad job and turn His interest in another direction.

We believe He would not want to do this, but who among us is sure that He might not do just that some day?

Yale's Griswold Didn't Say It

Our friends the headline writers made it appear for a brief time that Yale University's president, Alfred Whitney Griswold, finally had broken the silence barrier on the athletic scholarship swindle.

But instead of referring to the scholarships themselves as a swindle in a speech at The Johns Hopkins University, President Griswold, it turned out, referred to them as a swindle on the kind of education every college student should receive. He was complaining that athletes who went to college on athletic scholarships were not getting the kind of education they deserved.

What really needs to be said on this subject is that the athletes are not getting the kind of money they deserve for their important role in the entertainment business, which is what big-time football is.

None of them, it is safe to assume, makes in cash, value in lieu of cash, or in both more than a fifth of what his services are demonstrably worth at the boxoffice. Granted that many pigskin entertainers who work for peanuts as amateurs are doing so for a chance to catch the eye of scouts for professional teams, there still is no reason a laborer on the gridiron should not be worthy of his hire.

At the very least, he should be entitled to a chance to come back to the campus to become a full-fledged student in case he cannot make the grade with the professionals when he has been judged ready for the big time. At the very most, he should be entitled to a couple hundred dollars a game, in recognition of the quarter of a million that Alma Mater may be raking in at the boxoffice.

Rockefeller and the Day of Reckoning

Gov. Rockefeller's jut jawed policy that New York should pay for what it wants with no more deficit financing, is closer to the policy being hammered out by President Eisenhower than had appeared at first.

There are two ways to balance a budget. 1. To make spending match income; 2. To make income match spending.

President Eisenhower is arguing in Washington that spending should not be greater than income.

Gov. Rockefeller is arguing in Albany that income should be equal to spending.

The difference in their approach is that New York already is committed to a spending program and cannot get out from under it. As the New York Times summed up the problem:

"New York State has been running downhill to insolvency through increased spending unaccompanied by increased taxation for four years at least. The legislature committed itself to vast increases in state aid to education in formulas that would become more costly each ensuing year. It did not enact new taxes; instead, whenever a good political occasion offered and with the blessing of Gov. Harriman, it gave the taxpayers a 'dividend' of income tax 'forgiveness.'"

Gov. Rockefeller is calling for a day of reckoning—a return to financial integrity. Even Gov. Williams in Michigan—the Far Deal's beloved "Soapy"—is having a day of reckoning. Michigan is so broke it cannot meet ordinary payroll expenses. Payless pay days are imminent.

In Washington, it's easier to write more debt on the cuff and leave it for pensioners and tomorrow's children to worry about. But the issue is the same wherever it comes to a climax: How long can a government run into debt without undermining the confidence that underlies its credit?

Dulles is able to read newspapers and magazines and, while it is no doubt comforting to him, it probably also strikes him as ironic that after all the criticism he has drawn in his six years in office, he is now being lavishly praised.

The praise ranges from mild to excessive, including the suggestion that he is indispensable. Looked at coldly the word "indispensable" is a little less than realistic when applied to any man.

If tomorrow Dulles decided he no longer could do his job and resigned, some one would have to take his place. No matter how valuable a secretary has been, this country has long been accustomed to acquiring a new secretary every time a new administration takes office.

True, Dulles has so completely dominated and handled American

Nepotism Was Never Like This

The latest discovery of nepotism in Washington is not likely to lead to anything sensational.

The only really sensational thing about nepotism in Washington, any other capital, or any other form of government would be to discover that it had gone out of style. That never will happen while human nature stays the way it is.

It is as natural as breathing to be kind to relatives. Nepotism came into existence as a practice in the Vatican, where nephews had an inside track for desirable appointments. There is a good kind of nepotism as well as the kind now being publicized. "Nepotism" in one sense means to be fond of one's nephews.

But the kind of nepotism that is rediscovered in Washington every so often is nothing that innocent. It is the kind that hogs one or more extra salaries on a government payroll by appointing wives and relatives to jobs. These people may or may not do their jobs well; most of them probably work hard, knowing they are under scrutiny. But as soon as it is known they are relatives, they are subject to criticism.

It is one thing in private enterprise for the boss to take care of his relatives, but it rangles twice as deep to know that some people are on government payrolls because they were put there by ever-loving members of their own families.

Nepotism in government cannot be forbidden, but it needs to be discouraged, and always will be as long as the press in the United States is free to tell who is holding jobs and why.

Some of the new Democratic congressmen went to Washington this year imbued with the idea that the federal cow should be milked to the limit.

Asian Flu, Now European

The flu that's "going around"—and that is more than a figure of speech—will be called "European flu" to distinguish it from other flus, if it turns into an epidemic.

Few cases have shown up so far, but outbreaks that have been making hundreds of thousands of Europeans miserable are expected to have repercussions in the United States.

If that happens, the Asian flu of last year may be to blame. After last year's Asian flu had laid millions low, it was predictable that it would show up this winter in a second round—and Europe's present epidemic may be the beginning.

Flu is named according to the place it is suspected of having come from, never for where it happens to be.

In World War I, it was called "Spanish flu" in the United States and Canada. Russians called it "Chinese flu." Europeans called it "Russian flu," and the Japanese called it "American flu."

European flu, it would appear, is as good a name as any, if enough of it "goes around" to deserve a special name.

Two things about it will be important to remember, if it gets started. First, there is plenty of vaccine available, because it probably will be susceptible to the same vaccine developed for "Asian flu."

Second, any kind of flu should be taken

Once Over

Hi: I want to get on relief rolls but have trouble, due to the fact I am honest. I just got rejected because I lack money and have only one car. What do you advise?

A. From the relief roll scandals it looks like you have little chance. But keep trying.

Q. How far can this "inside—your insides" trend go on my TV screen? I can't look at a pill, tonic or capsule without seeing the route taken, the detours, dead-ends, etc. I find I can't see a telecast of a cough drop without its itinerary. Once I could swallow an anti-acid medicine, trusting to luck, and having no idea of its progress beyond a belief "it went thataway." Now I get the line of march. I am put in a reviewing stand of a human chest and torso and shown where the tablets takes a sharp right, the point where it turns left and the area where it is demobilized. Can you help me?—R.K.L.

A. What do you want for your money, pure guesswork? You must be the kind of man who is satisfied to take a pill and, if there is any interest in where it went, let the FBI trace it.

Dogs In Springtime

Trees are beginning to bud... crocuses are breaking through the ground... and lawns, if you look closely, are greening as the thaw begins. Can spring be far behind?

"But how can we have nice lawns, flowers and shrubbery when people allow their dogs and cats to run at large?" a woman reader writes. "How can we make Salem a more beautiful place to live when dogs cause so much damage. They also overturn bird baths and garbage cans."

The lady is right!

If all dog owners were as considerate of their neighbors as some, the police and dog warden's chores would be lighter. However stray dogs are a nuisance and if every mutt on the loose were impounded the problem would be solved.

By H. I. Phillips

Q. I am an airwave fan but the hero always gets shoved off my screen by a smiling medicine man. I constantly lose the heroine to some woner-drug pitchman. Last night a hot battle between the Sioux Indians and the U.S. Cavalry was busted up by a glamor puss with a bottle of rheumatism oil. A few days ago I was in deep suspense over Haggis Baggis when Mrs. Roosevelt threw out all the contestants and two truckloads of prizes with a plea for a better world and oleomargarine. Should I sell my TV set?—Gus V.

A. Have patience. The day may yet come when the Sioux, the cavalry and the emcees will turn and fight 'em all.

Q. Is there any truth in the rumor that off-track horse parlors, if permitted by law, will lead to $2 mutual windows in supermarkets?—Mrs. Gladwyn.

A. Our investigator says it is possible and that he looks for the Monday special $2 ticket at $1.65 (with green stamps) and the Friday daily double at two for $1.75, with a can of hash and a bottle of pickles.

U.S. Foreign Policy

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Secretary of State John Foster Dulles fights cancer — and the world awaits the outcome—American problems in foreign policy ring the earth.

Dulles is able to read newspapers and magazines and, while it is no doubt comforting to him, it probably also strikes him as ironic that after all the criticism he has drawn in his six years in office, he is now being lavishly praised.

The praise ranges from mild to excessive, including the suggestion that he is indispensable. Looked at coldly the word "indispensable" is a little less than realistic when applied to any man.

If tomorrow Dulles decided he no longer could do his job and resigned, some one would have to take his place. No matter how valuable a secretary has been, this country has long been accustomed to acquiring a new secretary every time a new administration takes office.

True, Dulles has so completely dominated and handled American foreign policy that no one could now just step in and take over without some hitch, strains and delays until he could master what a secretary of state needs to know.

Most of the talk so far about whether or not Dulles will continue in office, or have to retire, seems to be a conversation piece.

It may be some weeks before either Dulles or his doctors can know whether he will be able to resume his job full-time, part-time, or not at all. Meanwhile there are problems that need continuing attention.

First and foremost: What to do about the Soviet demand that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free city. Unless handled right, the West's whole position in Germany could crumble.

The West is bracing itself for a showdown on Berlin, perhaps around May 27. As late as Tuesday Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was being tough and unyielding, despite Allied proposals for a foreign ministers conference to talk about it.

In the background, always, is the continuing problem of how to cope with Red China's growing strength and its inevitable influence on all Asia where the United States has built up alliances which have hardly been tested yet.

America's relations with its friend, the Philippines, have deteriorated and need fixing. Then there's the task of trying to help India, with its bursting population and extremely low living standards, to improve its economic conditions.

Moving west a bit, there is the still unsolved problem of trying to get along with President Nasser of Egypt and keep him out of the camp of communism.

In Iraq, which had been closely tied in with the United States until a revolution destroyed both King Faisal and his regime, the Communists, and through them the Soviet Union have steadily gained influence.

At this moment there seems a genuine puzzlement over Iraq—whether or not it may go Communist. If it does, the U.S.S.R. will have gained its first indisputable foothold in the Middle East.

Such an event would call for a complete rearrangement in the thinking of the Arabs and the West. To say it would cause a convulsion in the area seems mild.

Right next door is another American friend, still friendly: Iran. The task here is how to keep it friendly and help it resist Soviet threats and pressure.

Behind the upcoming crisis on Berlin, of course, is the old problem for the United States and its allies of how, in a way satisfactory to them, West and East Germany can be unified.

Tuesday Khrushchev brushed the Western Allies aside, saying the question of reunification could not even be discussed by the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France. He said it is a question for the "two German states themselves."

All these enormous burdens, awaiting solution, are on the shoulders of Dulles who is 71 years old today and fighting for his life against cancer.

Campaign Strategy

By PETER EDSON

Candidates Took a Look Inside Voters' Heads

How Democrat candidates for governor and U.S. senator used scientific political opinion polls to guide their campaign strategy in the last election is best shown by a few examples. Copies of 11 of these polls conducted by Louis Harris and Associates of New York have just been made available to this writer for a first report of their content.

Advantages of the state poll political technique were first shown in Maine, which held its election in September. A survey made in May showed that the issues bothering voters the most were: unemployment 56 per cent, high taxes 18 per cent, schools 13 per cent, high prices 11 per cent, low wages, 8 per cent, government spending, 8 per cent and better roads 8 per cent.

FOREIGN POLICY issues were at the bottom of the list. Only 8 per cent were bothered about keeping the peace and 5 per cent about keeping up with the Russians on missiles. But 11 per cent felt the need of new leadership in Washington.

The poll showed Governor Muskie, running for U.S. Senate, was credited by 68 per cent of the voters with having done a good job at home. So he could run on his own record.

The people of Maine had been hard hit by the recession. And the poll showed that was the one big issue to concentrate on, capitalizing on uneasiness about Washington.

Republican Senator Payne, running for re-election, chose to debate Muskie on foreign policy and support for President Eisenhower. Payne did this ably. But it wasn't the issue the voters were most interested in, and he lost.

Democratic Mayor R. Vance Hartke of Evansville, Ind., running for U.S. senator against GOP Gov. Harold Handley, used the Harris poll as his guide for the entire campaign. It showed 71 per cent of the Hoosier voters most concerned about making ends meet. They also complained about high taxes, inadequate schools, highway scandals and a corrupt state administration.

THE POLL SHOWED Indiana farmers about evenly divided on the Benson farm policy. Fewer than a fourth were concerned about the international situation.

Hartke chose to soft pedal those issues and concentrate on home issues. It kept him in front all the way.

In California and Ohio—where three polls were made a month or more apart to check trends—right-to-work amendments were shown to be the issue of most concern to voters. Democratic candidates Edmund G. (Pat) Brown for governor and Clair Engle for U.S. senator in California, Mike DiSalle for governor and Stephen Young for U.S. senator in Ohio therefore concentrated on these issues and courted labor.

California and Ohio polls showed one marked difference which states.

In California it was shown that the recession had eased and that jobs were better, so that was not an issue to stress. But in Ohio voters had been hard hit by the recession and were worried about it. So Democrats stressed bread and butter issues, cashing in on it to reverse early poll trends.

ON THE SURFACE, February and September polls in Arizona appear to have been wrong. They showed Democratic Gov. Ernest McFarland leading Republican Barry Goldwater in his race for re-election as U.S. senator. Important issues here were local—water rights, high taxes, schools and highways. Right-to-work was a minor issue, with only 7 per cent of the voters interested.

In the last two weeks of the campaign, however, AFL-CIO Political Action Committee sent in a campaign organizer to help McFarland. He was identified as Charles Alva Green, who had a police record. His rogue's gallery photo, printed in Arizona newspapers, tended to prove all Goldwater's charges. That threw him the election.

Similarly, in Maryland, the polls showed Baltimore Mayor Thomas D. Alesandro had an edge over J. Glenn Beall in the U.S. Senate race. The survey showed, however, that if Alesandro didn't hold all of his old voting strength, he might not win. The mayor didn't hold it and he lost.

A 'Suppressed' Report

By Dr. GEORGE S. BENSON

Director of the National Education Program

Some reliable news sources in Washington recently reported that President Eisenhower has been more and more displeased with the Chief Justice whom he appointed to the Supreme Court.

The President is annoyed and alarmed, the reports say, because the Chief Justice has been a ring-leader in destroying vital internal security safeguards.

It is to be hoped that the President will make a public statement on this. To much is at stake—our liberty and our lives—when any agency of the government destroys carefully legislated laws vital to the structure of our national defense.

The President may not speak out; the code of politics or personal considerations may impose self-censorship.

A notable case of censorship that backfired in the same area of danger, when powerful forces outside or within the American Bar Association managed to have a special committee of the Association which had made the study of Communist tactics, strategy and objectives.

This special committee was headed by Peter Campbell Brown, former chairman of the Subversive Activities Control Board, and numbered in its membership some of the most distinguished lawyers in America.

ALTHOUGH THE strategy of those who wanted to sidetrack the report was successful at the American Bar Association national convention, Senator Styles Bridges was told of its importance; he secured a copy and obtained consent of the U.S. Senate to have it printed in the Record.

It is damaging to those Supreme Court justices who voted to destroy our internal security laws. The report lists 20 decisions on Communism handed down by the Supreme Court in the last two years. Each of the 20 decisions was a priceless victory for world Communism. Each weakened America's internal security.

The report of this ABA special committee calls attention to a statement by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI: "It would be the worst kind of folly to allow the spy and subversive immunity through technical rather than logical interpretation of the law while they plot the destruction of our democratic form of government." And "the worst kind of folly" means national suicide! Many feel that the Supreme Court, in protecting the Communist conspiracy, is committing us to national suicide.

THE BAR ASSOCIATION committee set forth 10 specific recommendations designed to restore the structure of security wrecked by the Supreme Court. Each of the 10 recommendations begins with the word "Restore."

The recommendations call upon Congress to pass legislation reconstructing the bulwarks torn down by the Supreme Court. This committee of distinguished and nationally-known lawyers also called upon Congress and the President to "re-evaluate the policy of recognition of Soviet Russia and its satellites."

"Four American presidents refused to recognize the Communist government of Russia," the committee wrote, "and it remained weak and ineffective so long as it was unrecognized. Nothing would slow down the Communist line more definitely than if the United States were to recognize the necessity of treating Soviet Russia as an outlaw and putting its Red agents in the same category. It would dry up the channels by which Soviet Russia spreads its propaganda, directs its espionage and enforces its discipline on certain of our citizens."

ANOTHER ADMONITION to the President and Congress was: "Be prepared with a plan of action: One of the several lessons we learned from the Hungarian rebellion in October, 1956 was that the West has no plan of action."

This report is one of the most valuable documents of its kind available to American citizens who earnestly wish to learn the nature of Communism and what we must do to combat its expanding power within America.

It is somewhat frightening to know that such a report—based on irrefutable documented facts—was withheld from the ABA convention floor; in effect, "suppressed." Steps were taken recently to bring it to public attention by submitting it to the ABA's House of Delegates.

The committee's report closes with this warning: "We can no more save our Republic from Communism, merely by saying we are against Communism, than parents can save their children from polio by fervently being against polio."

To conquer any disease requires intelligent study to isolate the germ and discover the vaccine. As the number one killer in the world today, Communism is a disease which merits our urgent study."

Copies of the ABA special report may be obtained (20c) from American Opinion, Belmont 78, Mass.

Confident Living

By Dr. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE
Finding Your Answers Through Prayer

This week's column is about a woman in a southern state who was suffering deep depression. Many problems, all seemingly insoluble, had swooped down upon her hand she had given way under them, falling into the blackest despair.

Losing her ability to reason intelligently, she came to the pathetic decision that the only answer to her problems was to take her own life. Somehow she secured a gun. Then, fearing that she might not be able to nerve herself to use it, she also armed herself with a box of sleeping pills. Thus equipped, she got into her car, drove 100 miles to the outskirts of Atlanta, registered under an assumed name in a motel and prepared for the terrible act of self-destruction.

She paced the room, trying to work herself up to do what she planned to do. It so happened there was a newspaper in the room which had been provided by the management for guests. She picked it up and nervously leafed through it, not really seeing anything. Then, suddenly, by some strange perceptiveness she saw an advertisement in small type. It seemed to leap out of the paper at her. "If you are in trouble," it read, "dial a prayer." And a telephone number was given

NOW THIS WOMAN'S STORY is both dramatic and extreme. But things like this do happen and, what is more, they happen every day.

I am certain that my readers have many and differing problems. I do not know what your particular problem is at this moment. But I do know that you can "dial a prayer," not necessarily by telephone, but direct to God Himself. You can make contact with the true source of wisdom and power. There is no one reading these words who cannot get satisfactory answers to his problems if he will pray in depth, with real meaning, real desire and real humility.

Pray, with supplication, with devotion and with thanksgiving; and power over difficulty will come. I haven't any doubt about it. Neither will you when you try it.

THE IDEA OF PRAYING gripped her mind and she said to herself, "If I'm going to end my life, it's only right that I should hear a prayer before I die." There was no telephone in the motel room, so she went into the office where she found a telephone booth.

She dropped her dime in the slot, dialed the number and soon a strong, friendly, confident voice was saying to her: "God is your refuge and your strength, an ever-present help in time of your trouble. I give you an affirmation. Say it after me: 'God is my refuge. God is my strength. God is my peace. I am now receiving the assurance that I can gain victory over my trouble.'"

She repeated it after him. And six times in the next twenty-four hours, she went back to that telephone, heard the prayer and offered the affirmation. The sixth time, not even knowing that she would be heard, she whispered, "I am going to commit suicide. I need your help."

Soon a man came. He prayed with her; he talked with her; he broke through into her darkness. She gained victory.

She checked out, got into her car and drove home to attack her problems with new strength and a new ally in God. And she found that her problems were not insoluble after all. She got some real answers, through prayer, to all her difficulties.

Of course I don't scare you. I'm only a little boy making believe I'm a big bad man.

Some day, though, I will be big. Some day this game might be real, 'cause even the biggest bad man was once a little boy. And who knows what made him go wrong? That's why early training is so important.

In church and Bible school we learn about God's kindness and love, and how we can trust Him for the things we need. We learn to want to help others, instead of hurting them.

Encourage the children you know to learn all the good they can. Make church and Bible school your family custom—please.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Temperamental Feline Leaves Play Rehearsal

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A temperamental actress walked out of a play rehearsal here. But the director says they'll just go on without her if she doesn't come back by Wednesday's opening.

The actress is Flip, a fluffy gray cat with topaz eyes.

"She's in two vital scenes with the leading actor and we can't cut them out," Director Norman Morton said.

"She just holds still and listens but there aren't many cats that will do that."

What if Flip doesn't show up? The show — "Visitor to a Small Planet" — will go on, "even if we have to use a teddy bear in the part," Morton said.

Salem In Sectional Finals; Tops South Warriors 70-46

Deitch, Slaby, Marks Lead Quakers; Team Shoots 48%; Face East Tonight At 9:00

By GORDON ARNDT

Striking with the fury of a cyclone in the first two and one half minutes and then powering their way along throughout the remainder of the contest with a wicked fast break, Salem's Quakers moved into the finals of the lower bracket in the Youngstown Class AA sectional tourney last night by overwhelming the Youngstown South Warriors 70-46.

South didn't know what hit them and were never really able to recover from the Quakers' Sunday punch at the outset.

The Quakers grabbed a 4-0 lead on goals by Lou Slaby and Woody Deitch and at the 4:31 mark of the first period they led 13-2.

South came within 15-11 near the end of the frame but that was the closest they ever got as the Quakers widened the margin as the tilt progressed. It was 35-23 at the half and 56-37 after three periods.

Woody Deitch hauled in scoring laurels for Salem with 25 while Lou Slaby had 15 and Clyde Marks 11.

Deitch was particularly effective on hook shots and on close in scoring while Slaby tallied his on follow ups with a rebound.

The most outstanding game turned in by a Salem player was the performance of Marks. His point total was his highest of the season. He was a terror on the backboards and showed great scoring potential in a one hander from the side along with drive goals.

DAN KRICHBAUM and Dave Hunter were the stalwarts for Salem on defense. Their tight checking of South's backcourt men enabled the Quakers to score several buckets on intercepted passes.

The Quakers missed out on several additional scoring chances by being guilty of bad passes. Instead of an interception resulting in two points the pass ended up in the bleachers following a faulty relay down court.

Booker Wright tallied 22 for the losers being the only Warrior in double figures. He was a big pest for the Quakers hitting on long one handers and one drive ins. He was the only bright spark in South's slowly dying scoring blaze.

Salem made 24 of 50 shots for 48 percent and hit on 22 of 30 fouls while South made 21 of 64 shots for 32.8 percent. They made only four fouls in 14 attempts.

Slaby and Marks, Salem's rebounding duo, hauled in a total of 25 missed firings. As soon as one got the rebound the Quakers were off on a fast break and usually two points.

The game was fast throughout with both teams racing up and down the floor with reckless abandon. No sooner would one team intercept a pass or grab a rebound and 10 players would be moving at once in an opposite direction.

SALEM LED 13-2 with 4:31 left in the opening canto when Wilson and Carmel Brawley tallied for South to bring them back to 13-7.

The game saw-sawed somewhat throughout the remainder of the frame with Salem holding a 20-13 margin after eight minutes.

Hunter and Krichbaum sparked Salem's defense here amidst the fast break activities. The Quakers missed some rebound attempts besides throwing a trio of bad passes on fast breaks.

Salem's press lagged somewhat and it enabled South to spring one man loose underneath occasionally for a easy pair.

With 5:03 left in the half Salem led 24-19 after Rowland and Wright tallied for the Warriors.

At this point the Salemites got to work and broke the game open a little more.

Deitch tallied nine straight points for Salem and with 2:47 left his club was in front 31-19.

The Salem southpaw dropped in 11 of Salem's 15 points in the second quarter with the other four coming by Slaby.

Wright and Lewis hit for South and it was 31-23 with 1:09 left but then Deitch and Slaby hit a pair each to make the intermission tally Salem 35 and South 23.

South, the Columbiana County squad padded its lead as the tilt progressed.

With 1:05 left in the third quarter Salem led 54-33 following two nice drive-ins by Marks.

Early in the final frame South scored four straight and at the 6:37 pole Salem led 56-41. This was the closest South got in the second half. They tallied only nine points in the last eight minutes.

Hunter, particularly Slaby, and Deitch scored for Salem through the first half of the frame and with 3:52 left the Quakers were 25 ahead at 66-41. Here Cabas began substituting freely as he always does in the last canto.

WRIGHT hit twice for South and it was 66-44 but Salem came back on points by Jim Solmen (four) to make it 70-44. Two fouls by South in the last 11 seconds ended the scoring at 70 for Salem and 46 for South.

Salem's bench was cleared when Carl Dunn came in for Jim Lehwald at the 0:44 mark. Solmen and Rick Theiss played the last four minutes for Marks and Slaby.

Tonight the Quakers go against Youngstown East, a team that had to rally late to defeat Fitch, 50-35. East played without their big ace, Jim Snowden. He had the flu and was suffering from a 103 degree temperature. His appearance tonight is doubtful.

Salem will meet East at 9 p.m. In the 7:30 opener, Chaney goes against Rayen with the winner moving up to district play with the Salem-East winner.

A student bus for students and parents will leave from the junior high school at 6:15 this evening for the Salem-Youngstown East game tonight in Youngstown, F. E. Cope, athletic director, announced today.

Michigan State Can't Finish Lower Than 1st

By The Associated Press Michigan State, needing only one victory in three games to capture its first undisputed Big Ten basketball championship, will attempt to end the race at Indiana today.

The game will be completed before the other eight teams, three of which have hopes of tying the Spartans, swing into action.

The Michigan State-Indiana game will be regionally televised. Iowa (7-5), Illinois (6-5) and Michigan (6-5) can tie for the title if they sweep their games and Michigan State loses its final three.

That isn't likely since the Spartans have lost but two in their eleven conference games this season.

Illinois is at Iowa and one will be eliminated even if MSU loses to Indiana. Michigan is at Ohio State (6-6) Minnesota (5-6) at Purdue (6-6) and Northwestern (6-6) at Wisconsin (1-10).

Should Michigan State lose to Indiana, the Spartans should wrap up the title at home Monday night when they take on lowly Wisconsin.

In other games Monday, Illinois is at Michigan, and Ohio State is at Minnesota.

PLACE IN TRAP SHOOT MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Richard Urban of Mentor, Ohio, and C. J. Stophor of Wauseon, Ohio, took Class B and D honors, respectively, in the Miami Winter Trap Championships Friday. Urban shot 191 of 200, Helen Urban, also of Mentor, was first among the women, also with 191 of 200.

VOTED BEST DOG UNION SPRINGS, ALA. (AP) — George Calhoun was voted the best dog in the qualifying series at the National Shooting Dog Championship here Friday. The animal is owned by M. D. Stepath of Lancaster, Ohio.

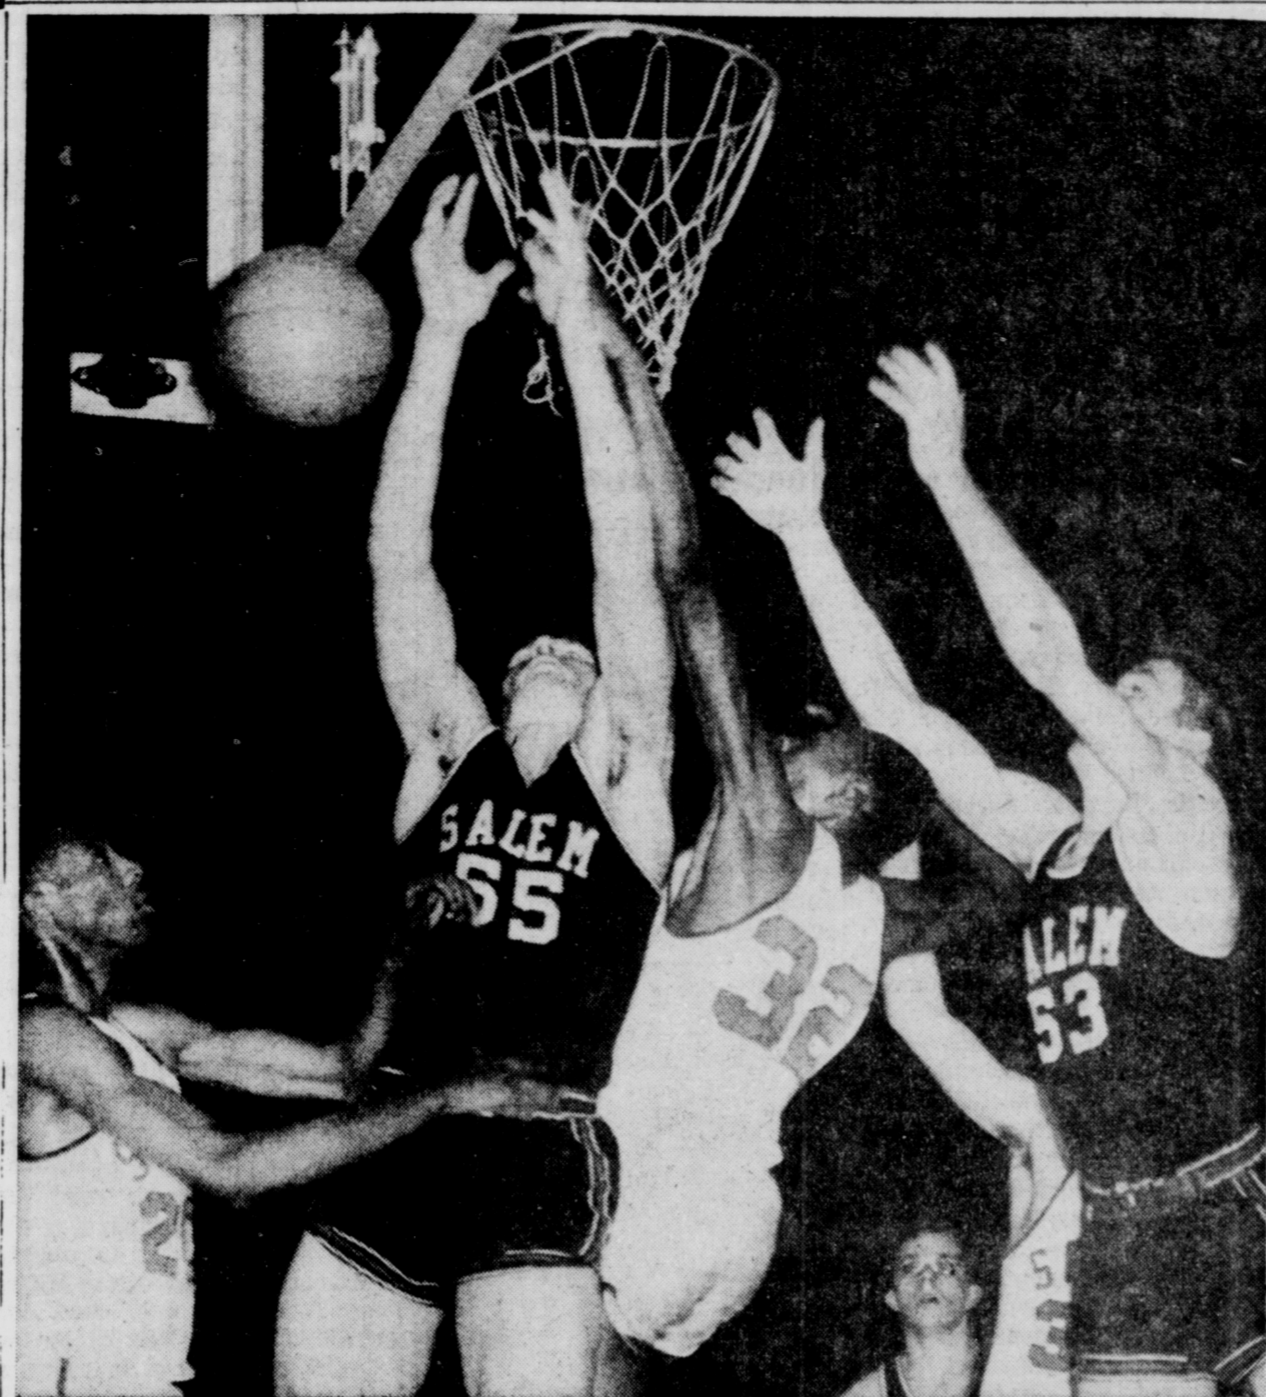

MARKS GOT eight of his 11 points in the third frame and in one stretch tallied a half dozen straight for Salem.

The Quakers outscored South 19-14 in the third quarter and in so doing padded their lead to 19 at 56-37 after 24 minutes.

South continued to use screens here and made the most of fast breaks for what little scoring they did. When they had to set up a play Salem's defense caused them all sorts of trouble. They could only dent with screens which didn't always work.

As Salem had missed some easy chances in the second frame they didn't in the third canto. Time and again Deitch snuck underneath against South's zone for an easy pair.

Hunter and Krichbaum continued to harass South in the third quarter. With Deitch leading the fast break for the Red and Black and combined with forced shots by QUAKERS ROUT SOUTH — In the top picture Salem's rebounding twins, Lou Slaby, No. 55, and Clyde Marks, No. 53, battle for a missed shot with South's Phil Wilson, No. 32, and Don Willis, No. 20. Slaby and Marks grabbed 25 rebounds last night in Salem's 70-46 victory. In the bottom picture, Dave Hunter of Salem, No. 15, hooks in a southpaw shot while teammate, Slaby, No. 55, looks on. Legitimate tickets are no longer available for the game, which will determine the Ohio Conference championship.

ARMSTRONG THUMPS Italo Scorticini NEW YORK (AP) — "He's ready to fight the best and we're going to try and match him with either Gene Fullmer or Spider Webb." So said Harry Markson, general manager of boxing at Madison Square Garden, after undefeated Gene (Ace) Armstrong scored a near-shutout over Italian middleweight champion Italo Scorticini in the big arena Friday night. It made Armstrong's record 17-0.

The rangy, 27-year-old middleweight contender from Elizabeth, N.J., was judged a 9-1 winner in rounds by all three of the officials. Markson said that Webb, the No. 3 contender from Chicago, was a more likely opponent for a May fight in the Garden since Fullmer, the No. 2 challenger, injured his right hand a week ago. The NBA rates Armstrong fourth while Ring has him 10th.

"Either one is OK with me," said Armstrong. "My job is fighting. And if I can fight the top-ranking guys, all the better. It will mean more money. The main thing is that I want to keep busy."

Armstrong was the 4-1 favorite at ring time. He weighed 161, Scorticini 157½.

Delany Seeks 30th Straight Indoor Mile Spartans Favored to Win Title With Victory Over Hoosiers

By The Associated Press Michigan State, still tottering around in knee pants by conference standards, can win its first undisputed Big Ten basketball championship tonight along with the coveted spot in the NCAA tournament that goes to the victor.

The Spartans are only in their eighth season of play in the conference. Two seasons ago they finished in a tie for first with Indiana.

It's the same Indiana team that is standing in the way of Michigan State this time. But the Spartans are favored.

If the Spartans had to wait 9 years for their first championship, they need not be concerned. Compared to some of their brothers, they've done all right, indeed.

The conference started a yearly race in 1906. It was 1925 before Ohio State won the crown for the first time outright. It was 1927 for Michigan, 1931 for Northwestern and Indiana didn't come out on top all by itself until 1953.

And just in case Michigan State (9-2) stumbles against Indiana (6-6), the Spartans will be a virtual certainty to win the title Monday.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Vic Power says he prefers to play first base because he feels more relaxed there, but that he will play anywhere that Cleveland manager Joe Gordon assigns him.

The 27-year-old Puerto Rican walked out on the field with a first baseman's mitt when he reported to the Indians' camp Friday, but was told to switch to third base.

Gordon explained that Larry Doby was being given a trial at first base and that Power would be used at that position only if the experiment failed.

"It's okay," Power said. "Anything you say."

Power, rated the best fielding first baseman in the American League, also is a pretty fair third baseman. He played 42 games at third base after the Indians acquired him from Kansas City last June and made only three errors.

Some observers considered him the Tribe's best fielding third baseman since Ken Keltner, who retired nearly 10 years ago.

Despite the fact that he led the Indians at bat last year with a .312 average, Power is more concerned about his hitting that the position he will play.

"I want to make big money and to do that you have to hit more than .312," he said. "Maybe if I win the batting title I get a big raise."

day when they engage Wisconsin (1-10).

The Southern, Pacific Coast and Yankee conference titles also can be determined tonight. The favorite in the Southern, as usual, is West Virginia, which has won the crown for the past four years.

The Southern Conference winner is decided in a post-season tournament and the Mountaineers go against The Citadel in the final in Richmond. But West Virginia had a tough time turning back William and Mary, 85-82, in the semifinals Friday night. The Citadel edged George Washington, 53-52.

California can wrap it all up in the PCC by downing Washington State in its third game of the week. The Bears licked Southern California Friday night 70-64 to move within a whisper of their goal. Washington kept its slim hopes alive by beating Idaho 74-51.

As for the Yankee Conference, Connecticut will sit back and watch the progress of the Rhode Island-Massachusetts game. The Uconnis already have clinched a tie and if Massachusetts wins this one, they are in. Otherwise, the Uconnis and Rhode Island settle matters next Wednesday.

Dartmouth had a golden opportunity to win the Ivy League championship Friday night. But Princeton had other ideas and crushed the Hanover Indians 34-67. It was the first league defeat dealt to Dartmouth, the defending champions.

Clippers Romp 82-44; Play Atwater Tonight

Columbiana's Clippers moved into the finals of the Canton Class A sectional tourney last night by completely outclassing the Beach City Pirates 82-44. Rich Berryman's club will play tonight at 8:30 against Atwater, a 55-54 winner over Windham last night in another lower bracket semifinal match.

In the upper bracket finals this evening, United Local's Golden Eagles go against Ravenna Township at 7 p.m. The winner of these two games will qualify for next week's Canton district meet.

Ray Baltz, Rich Harold and Don Davison were the big guns for the Clippers last night totaling 57 points. Baltz had 22 and the ladders 17 each.

The game was never in doubt. Columbiana had big quarter leads of 18-5, 35-23, and 51-35.

Columbiana hit 35 of 70 field goal tries for 50 per cent while the Pirates canned 19 of 57 for 33 per cent.

GEAUGA MAN KILLED
CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — A truck-car collision on U. S. 6 east of here Friday night killed Alvin L. Emerick, 29, of Aquilla Village, Geauga County. Sheriff's deputies said Emerick's car slammed into the rear of a slow-moving truck.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

It will be Marks' Landing of Guilford Lake against the Farmers' National Bank of Salem in the best of three playoff for the city basketball championship.

The first tilt will be staged Monday at 8 p.m. at the Memorial Building with the second game set for Wednesday evening. A third game, if necessary, will be held Thursday.

Marks won the Monday Division title by taking two straight from Herron Transfer 75-51 and 57-52 while Farmers had to go three games to down Bennett's Greenhouse. Farmers won the first game 75-55 and the deciding one 56-53 while Bennett's had taken the second contest 46-44.

COUNTING games played in the first half, second half and division playoffs, Marks has a 14-2 record while Farmers is 15-3.

The tallest man for Farmers is 6-4 Chuck Edie while 6-7 Dean Nicholson is the tallest for Marks. Farmers have nice rebound strength also in Jerry Binder and Andy Saffow while Marks has George Ramsey.

Bob Adams and Dave Hartman are the "ball-handlers" for Marks while Chuck Greiner and Dick Beall handle the same chores for the Duck DeJone coached quintet.

BOTH SQUADS are equipped with fine shots and speed. In weighting the teams further, the edge must go to Marks in rebounding because of Nicholson. Both teams have been known to play in spurts.

They'll go for a few minutes hotter than a firecracker and in the next instant will get colder than a refrigerator.

The team that loses on Monday night will of course have to come back and capture both the Wednesday night and the Thursday evening contests to win the title.

I SAY Marks could do this more readily than Farmers. Marks clobbered Herrons in the first game but the second one was closer.

Farmers also badly beat Bennett's in their first playoff game but turned around and lost the second one. It appears maybe each team is better in the first game than in the second. If each team is at their best Monday, I say Marks wins. Because I think Marks will win Monday and that Farmers can't come back and take two in a row, I'll pick Marks to win it and not in three games but in two straight.

Fairfield-Waterford Class to Present Play
The Senior Class of Fairfield-Waterford High School will present "Hillbilly Courtship," a three-act play, March 11 at 8 p.m. in the school gym.

The cast includes Dan Taylor, Beverly Arthurs, Gail Winter, Ellen Long, Evelyn Webber, Gary Hawkins, Bob Neishole, Bob Weber, Bill Justice, Joyce Baker and Ray Moser.

CLASSIFICATION EYED
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Twenty-three state boards and commissions, presently unaffiliated with any state department, would find a home under legislation being drawn up at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. These agencies would come under various state departments under the proposal, such as putting the Racing Commission in the Commerce Department. The governor would still appoint the commission and board members.

PRODUCTION TO RESUME
CINCINNATI (AP) — Production is slated to resume next Monday at AVCO Manufacturing Co.'s Evendale plant after approval by 23 machinists union employees of a new three-year contract. The group ratified a new agreement Friday providing a 10 cent hourly wage increase in each year. Their average pay under the old agreement was $2.80. Last Wednesday, 450 electrical workers union employees ended a month-long walkout by agreeing to a new contract.

Rear Admiral Lyman Succeeds McLean In 4th Naval District

PHILADELPHIA — Rear Adm. E. R. McLean Jr. retired Friday as commandant of the 4th Naval District and Rear Adm. Charles H. Lyman was assigned to take his place.

The transfer was made at ceremonies at the Philadelphia Naval Base, headquarters for the district. He is a 1924 graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and has served since in the Navy. He served first as a flier aboard carriers, commanded a destroyer and later a destroyer division in World War II and served on the Joint Chiefs of Staff's war plans committee at the end of the war.

After duty in London, he commanded various U.S. Navy destroyers and cruiser divisions before his 4th Naval District assignment Aug. 15, 1956.

Adm. Lyman is a 1926 graduate of the Naval Academy who served on various warships until at the beginning of World War II he was made gunnery officer for battleships and carriers at headquarters of the U.S. Fleet. In 1944 he commanded a destroyer division in the Pacific.

Rear Admiral Lyman

After the war he was Atlantic Fleet operations officer, commanded a destroyer division and became chief of staff of the Naval War College. He has served in the latter assignment since June 12, 1957.

New Member To Join School Board March 9

The Board of Education will have a vacancy to fill when it holds its March meeting Monday, March 9.

Mayor Harold D. Smith's previously announced resignation as a member of the school board will become effective this Monday but the board has postponed its March meeting until the 9th because several board members are in the Kiwanis Club Kapers. Final rehearsals are scheduled this Monday.

The Board of Education is expected to select a successor to Mr. Smith so that the new board member can help in the selection of a superintendent of schools, Supt. E. S. Kerr has announced his retirement, effective in August, and board members already have started to interview applicants for the position.

Two superintendents from other cities were interviewed this week and three others conferred with the board two weeks ago.

Members are considering two men to fill Mayor Smith's seat on the board but have not indicated their choice.

Alfred L. Fitch is board president and Orin Naragon vice president. Other members are Dr. Donald Lease and Robert Heddleston.

Wallace King is clerk, having been named at the last meeting to succeed Harold Wykoff, who resigned.

cluding the boundary that divides the country into two states. The Russians also proposed that both states be neutralized.

The West has rejected the Soviet proposal, asserting it would perpetuate the division of Germany.

Western diplomats in Berlin say one reason why the Soviet Union would sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany would be to give a cloak of legality to its withdrawal from the four-power occupation of Berlin.

The Russians announced Nov. 27 that within six months they would drop their occupation duties in Berlin. They said they would give the East German Communist regime the power to control Allied military traffic into West Berlin, isolated 110 miles inside East Germany.

Protested Sharply The other occupation powers in Berlin—France, Britain and the United States—protested sharply. The Leipzig Fair runs from Sunday through March 10.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported today that Soviet First Dep. Premier, Anastas I. Mikoyan has declared a separate peace treaty for East Germany may be forthcoming.

East German Communist party leader Walter Ulbricht was putting propaganda fuel into the fire. He said West Germany must be freed of "militarism" before Germany can be unified. He also said West Germany must lift its 1956 ban on the Communist party.

Ulbricht laid down the reunification prerequisites in an interview with West Germany's Neue Ruhr Zeitung, published today by the official East German Communist party newspaper, Neues Deutschland.

Macmillan

talks in Moscow by taking a "tough line" on Germany. He said Macmillan had assumed that position in talks with Khrushchev.

Mikoyan also voiced a warning that if the West does not arrange a peace treaty with Germany and settle the Berlin issue, the Soviets will sign a separate pact with East Germany. The Western powers do not recognize the Communist East German state.

Mikoyan, standing for a seat in the Soviet Federation Parliament, made his remarks at a political rally at Rostov-on-Don while Macmillan was visiting the Ukrainian capital of Kiev.

Must Negotiate Macmillan told his Soviet hosts at a dinner in Kiev Friday night that the Soviet Union must negotiate with an honest desire for fair agreement if it really wants peace.

But sources close to the British delegation said Macmillan has just about given up hope of bringing East and West closer together on the Berlin crisis in view of Khrushchev's uncompromising stand.

The Soviet Premier attacked the West Tuesday and turned down a Western call for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany.

However, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, accompanying Macmillan, has been pictured as determined to salvage something out of the Khrushchev-Macmillan talks which have been unproductive thus far.

A final meeting between the two leaders is scheduled in the Kremlin Monday with a communique to follow.

Macmillan flew to Leningrad today for a visit there before returning to Moscow.

The British Prime Minister was faintly praised and roundly criticized in Mikoyan's Rostov-on-Don speech.
